A Full Amnesty the Price of the Latest Reports as Gleaned from Washington.

Secretary Gresham and Thurston Still on

Good Terms—What Minister Willis

Has Probably Accomplished—

Difference of Opinion.

By Telegram to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press.) The chief interest in the Hawaiian situation now surrounds the instructions given to Minister Willis, and the contents of the cipher message which was received after the arrival of the China. A number of outside people are now quite familiar with some important features of the instructions.

There is no doubt that Minister Willis was instructed to make the restoration of Liliuokalani conditional upon a full amnesty being granted the men who engaged in the revolution and overthrew the Queen. Minister Willis was told to say to the members of the provisional government that the President felt he ought to protect them to this extent, as he believed the authority of the United States and Minister Stevens led them into the revolution.

It is thought that the minister was instructed to first call upon the Queen and tell her that the President desired that she should placate those who had been instrumental in her overthrow, and sustain herself in authority by the assistance of the United States.

It is believed that the State Department has been informed that these conditions are satisfactory to the Queen, and had been accepted by her at the time the China sailed.

To President Dole, it is understood, that Minister Willis was instructed to say that the President felt it necessary to decide the matter as if a dispute had been referred to him, and in restoring the Queen, the President government makes it incredible that the instructions given to the government, the United States would assume its policy of non-interference.

The belief is growing that Minister

Willis's instructions did not include the employment of force. The rather cordial reception accorded yesterday

by Secretary Gresham to Minister

Thurston's official call, and the formal acknowledgment of the unsevered relations between the Queen and the government makes it incredible that instructions have been given to land

marines in Honolulu for the purpose of aggression upon the government which Mr. Thurston represents.

HISTORY REVAMPED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The original right of Queen Liliuokalani to the throne of Hawaii was by the nomination of her brother, Kalakaua. The Hawaiian constitution provided for this mode of succession, and when the monarch failed to provide a successor, the choice reverted to the upper House of the Legislature.

Advertising Pays.
The amount of advertising which now appears in the columns of the Times daily, and especially on Sunday, should be a matter for gratification, not merely to the publishers and advertisers, but also to all who are interested in the prosperity and advancement of Los Angeles. It is a fact, which seldom occurs either to the advertisers themselves or to the general public, that such a line of advertisements as the Times carries is an important factor in the building up of the city. The columns upon columns of attractive notices inserted by our leading retail firms, describing thousands of necessary articles of consumption which may be had at remarkably low rates, naturally induce the residents of smaller towns in Southern California to believe that it would pay them to take a trip to Los Angeles whenever they want to lay in a stock of goods. This they frequently do, and the city at large is, of course, the gainer thereby, as it is practically impossible for these people to come to Los Angeles on a shopping expedition without spending something for sustenance while they are here. After one such trip they acquire the habit of coming to the city periodically to make their purchases, and there is no doubt whatever that in this manner the advertising columns of the Times have been the means, during the past few years, of bringing many thousands of dollars into Los Angeles from the surrounding country. Of course this is a particularly welcome movement to the retail merchant in the smaller towns, but it is a movement which cannot be averted, even if it were desirable to do so. Trade, like water, will ultimately find its level.

There is another direction in which the very liberal advertising patronage of the Times is helpful to the city. Such a display of advertising creates a favorable impression upon those who are thinking of settling in this city. Many applications for sample copies are received daily from such people, and one of the first things which these men glance over is the advertising department of the paper. This department is regarded by all experienced business men as an index, not only to the condition of business in a city, but also, in a great measure, to the character of the citizens of that place. From the advertising columns a very fair estimate can be made as to whether the business men of a city belong to the order of "slurians" or are progressive and enterprising men—such men as the average wide-awake Eastern man of intelligence and ambition would like to settle and rear his family among.

When these facts are considered, in connection with the other well-known fact, which is now universally admitted, that liberal and judicious newspaper advertising is one of the best investments which a business man can make, even the business man should be able to see at a glance why in more than one sense of the word newspaper advertising pays—pays not only the man whose notice appears in the paper, and the publishers of that paper, but also the community in which the paper is published. For this reason it is also evident that the duty of citizens to give as much as possible of their patronage to merchants who are thus doing their share to build up the city, while pushing their own business. It is, however, scarcely necessary to make this suggestion to our readers. They do patronize the men who are advertising, not perhaps from a sense of duty, but because good articles which they need are brought to their attention in a striking and attractive manner. The store of the storekeeper who does not advertise is a lonesome kind of a place nowadays. If a man had an article of merit to offer the public and knows how to advertise it judiciously, and may with confidence rely upon the public "to do the rest."

One of our contemporaries makes the following complaint against Secretary Gresham's letter to the President that it is more of a legal than a State document. If our contemporaries mean that Mr. Gresham has carefully sifted and summed up the evidence on both sides of the case, after the fashion of a judge upon the bench, the charge is perhaps warranted by the facts, but it is not a charge that will lessen the value of the Secretary's argument with unprejudiced people. As the English papers recognize, this country has shown great self-control in refusing to take possession of the Hawaiian Islands without the consent of the people of that country. This will certainly add much weight to any action that we may feel called upon to take in the future in upholding the Monroe doctrine.

Southern California is becoming such a favorite section for conventions of all descriptions that sometimes these meetings attract less attention from our people than they should. The meeting of the Southern California State Sunday-school Association, which has just been held at Pasadena, was an interesting one, and brought out some valuable points in connection with Sunday-school work. The association also put itself on record in favor of the purification of the press and the exaltation of the social evil.

France's Financial Strength.
A recent European dispatch, commenting upon the strained financial condition of the leading European countries, states that Paris is the only impregnable financial capital on the continent. This is a remarkable statement, when we remember what an enormous amount of money France was forced to pay to Germany after the war of 1870. Now France is rich and independent, while Germany is financially embarrassed. This condition of affairs is all the more remarkable when we remember the immense loss of France in the Panama Canal scheme.

How is such a paradox to be explained? Mainly in the fact that France owes nothing abroad, while every other country is heavily involved. The French debt is divided into very small sums, which are largely held by the peasantry of that country. Government bonds, which can be purchased in small denominations, are a favorite investment with the frugal people of France. There is a hint here for this country. Why should not a portion of the bonds of the United States be issued in small denominations, so that people of moderate means, as well as the rich, might avail themselves of this safe means of investing their money? If this were done, there is no doubt that all the bonds which this country has outstanding, and all which it is likely to issue in the future, could be absorbed among our own people. This would add to our resources an element of great strength.

We have recently seen, during the late financial flurry, what it means to be largely at the mercy of foreign bondholders. One of the most frequent threats which has been held up before the people by the goldites of the East has been that holders of American bonds in Europe would punish any attempt at an American financial policy by dumping their American bonds on the market and demanding gold therefor. In case of a financial panic, these bonds would be sold at a small amount among the people of this country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the great lakes to Mexico, it is easy to see how much more stability would be added to our financial position in times of excitement or panic. We believe that such a bond, issued in small denominations, could be placed in this country at a nominal rate of interest, as there are many people who would like to find absolutely safe, temporary investment for moderate savings, regardless of the interest which such investment may bring. When people put their money in banks, subject to call, they do not receive any interest thereon. If United States bonds of small amounts were readily available, there is no doubt that they would in many cases be preferred to savings-banks as a security for moderate amounts of money.

The revenue of the Postoffice Department for the present year is about $5,000,000 short of the receipts. This is really a small sum to pay for the service which the people of the United States receive from the department. It is reasonable to expect that as the population of the country increases, the time will come, before long, when the department will be self-sustaining. Meantime, Americans have no reason to complain in regard to the efficiency of the Postoffice Department, or in regard to the integrity with which it has been conducted, both under Republican and Democratic administrations. There is a demand in some quarters for the reduction of the postage to 1 cent, but this comes only from wealthy firms who have a very large amount of mail. The average citizen considers 2 cents little enough to send a letter from Los Angeles to New York. Among early improvements which would be popular may be mentioned an extension of the free-delivery system, a parcel post and postal savings bank.

Walking is not so popular a recreation as it should be among Southern Californians. Perhaps the mildness of the climate tends to lessen the desire for active exercise, but there are crisp fall and winter days, when a ramble over the hills is most enjoyable. San Francisco has a Cross Country Club which makes regular weekly excursions to points of interest in the neighborhood of that city. Sometimes a tramp takes only a day, while occasionally a longer trip is made. There are many delightful spots within half a day's walk of this city which are seldom visited, either by residents or tourists. Walking is an exercise which is not only healthy, but inexpensive, and should be encouraged, as much as possible. We do not organize a walking club in Los Angeles?

There appears to be a difference of opinion on part of some of our citizens as to the desirability of spending certain money for a display of our resources in Los Angeles or San Francisco. In this connection, it would be well to bear in mind the fact that the "Northern Circuit Bell"—which, to some of our citizens is a chimera, and to others a joke—is arranging to make a grand display of citrus fruits at San Francisco, aided by the $5000 subsidy which comes from the State. A building is to be erected and no effort will be spared to convince Eastern people that they raise better oranges, several weeks earlier than ours, on land which costs less than one-fifth of the price which is asked here for first-class citrus land. Under these circumstances it certainly seems necessary for us to get in and make a first-class exhibit at San Francisco. But the prospect of persuading that $10,000 surplus to materialize grows "small and faint, willy nilly" from day to day. The officials have got a sudden fit of legal economy onto them.

The exposition which opened in Augusta, Ga., is said to be the grandest display of the kind that has ever been seen in the South. The Southern States have been making remarkable advances during the past four or five years. The exhibition, however, merely an indication of what might be done in that section under favorable circumstances. Nature has endowed the Southern States more richly than any other portion of this country, and if the people of that section would only be contented to accept the political position to which they are entitled, and go to work to develop the resources of their section, the population and wealth of the South would undoubtedly double within a few years.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

MOORE-BREED.
At 11 o'clock yesterday morning Miss Lillian M. Breed, daughter of L. N. Breed, president of the Southern California National Bank, was united in marriage by Rev. J. S. Thomson to Charles C. Moore of San Francisco. The ceremony was celebrated in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Breed, 116 Nadeau, the young couple taking their places under a floral marriage bell where a pleasing picture was formed, the bride being beautifully dressed in white satin, over which swept a wedding veil. The apartments were handsomely decorated. The ceremony was quite informal, being confined simply to relatives and a few most intimate friends.

The wedding breakfast was served in the morning, which was ornamented with artistic taste, and immediately afterward the bridal party left for San Francisco, where they will make their future home.

MISS IDA H. BOAL.
Miss Ida H. Boal, daughter of Dr. R. H. Boal, and S. A. Mule, son of Superintendent Mule of the Southern Pacific Railroad, were married at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Workman, 817 West Twenty-eighth street. The grandfather of the bride, Rev. John M. Boal, performed the ceremony, and Mrs. A. Hubbard, a beautiful and costly gift was received by the bride.

WHITMARSH-WILLIAMS.
At the St. John's Episcopal Church on West Adams street, Episcopal church, Rev. W. B. Whitmarsh and Mrs. W. B. Whitmarsh were married yesterday by Rev. W. B. R. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Whitmarsh will be at home the first and third Wednesdays after December 1, at No. 817 West Twenty-eighth street.

BARTLETT-HENDRICK.
At St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday the rector, Rev. John Gray, united in marriage Mary Ernestine Hendrick of Chicago, Ill., and Clarence Purmort Bartlett of Tuskin.

ADAMS-CLIFFORD.
At 7 o'clock last evening Frank B. Adams of this city and Miss Brenda Clifford of Wichita, Kan., were united in marriage, Rev. Fred V. Fisher, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating.

MUSICAL MENTION.

The first of a series of parlor piano recitals of Mrs. Stratton-Bruce were well attended and highly enjoyed on Tuesday evening.

The programme consisted of fourteen pieces, including the "Mozart," Beethoven, Chopin and Liszt, all of which were present in splendid likeness and looked out from their unique places in the orchestra. The programme had done in real life could they have heard the refined interpretation of their masterpieces.

The revenue was assisted by Miss George Whitmarsh, who rendered sweetly two vocal solos, and by Miss Dora James in two violin solos, executed with great skill.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT.
The annual orchestral concert and ball of Co. A, Seventh Infantry, N.G.C., will be given at the Army, Friday evening, December 8, Henry J. Kramer, musical director. The concert, which will take place from 8 till 9 o'clock, will be rendered by fourteen of the best artists in the city.

TONIGHT'S CONCERT.
The advance sale of seats for the Ellis Club concert to be given this evening at the Grand Opera-house has been exceedingly large, and without the question of the price of the seats, the idea of opening the doors to the public is to be commended, and that it is appreciated already proved by the large attendance.

The last rehearsal of the club showed that each one is perfectly familiar with his part, and the concert, as a whole, is smooth and effective.

Miss Kempton, soprano, will make her real debut in the Los Angeles public on this occasion. She is highly recommended, and will win her way for the simple reason that she sings well.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Manuel Ramirez Sustains Probably Fatal Injuries.
Manuel Ramirez, who lives at No. 732 Jackson street, was struck by a Santa Fe train at the Aliso-street junction last evening about 7 o'clock, sustaining injuries which will probably prove fatal. The question of the liability of the railroad is badly mangled that amputation was necessary, the injured member being taken off above the knee. The surgeon was taken to the Santa Fe Hospital, where Dr. N. H. Morrison, the Santa Fe surgeon, attended him. It was almost midnight before the man revived sufficiently to tell his name.

Unity Club Lectures.
The discussion of "The Bellamy Idea" at last evening's meeting of the Unity Club was listened to by an audience that nearly filled the large auditorium of that church. Rev. W. C. Bowman read a paper on the affirmative side of the question, and Mr. J. H. Workman, in question would do away with the present unemployment and would remedy the evils of the situation. Mr. J. H. Workman read a lengthy paper on the negative side of the question. She argued that the fact that the rich were growing richer was not responsible for the poor growing poorer. It was even doubtful whether if the rich were to become poorer the poor would be better off. The many record books now published do not meet our wants fully.

CLOSING SESSIONS.

Of the State Sunday-school Convention.

The Tabernacle Filled During the Entire Day.

Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year.

Report of the Committee on Resolutions—Many Interesting Papers Read—The Final Musical Programme.

A large audience gathered in the tabernacle at Pasadena yesterday morning long before the hour appointed for the opening of the State Sunday-school Convention. Doubtless this was in part due to the fact that the kindergarten work had first place on the programme.

The praise service, under the leadership of C. A. Jeffers of Los Angeles, was somewhat shortened, that the children, who were waiting to assist Miss Ada Mae Brooks in her illustration of kindergarten work, might not become weary. When Miss Brooks took her place on the rostrum before her class of thirty-two children, ranging from the child of 7 or 8 to the tiny tot of 2, the attention of the convention was attracted to her. It was a time when a mercurial task she had undertaken. Miss Brooks proved herself fully equal to the emergency, and turned the most irrelevant remarks and seemingly impossible questions into material by which to illustrate the lesson. Two children arriving late, furnished an opportunity for a very timely little piece should be dealt with. The lesson was "Giving For Jesus' Sake." The original and fearless recitation, which was given in a most proved very entertaining, and ripples of laughter were constantly breaking out in the audience. Songs appropriate to the lesson were sung by the children. Owing to the restricted space of the tabernacle it was impossible to introduce some of the exercises intended.

After a prayer by Mr. Wright of Riverside, H. K. W. Bent of Pasadena was introduced by the president. Mr. Bent spoke on "The Pastoral Work of the Sunday-school Teacher," calling attention to the fact that the shepherd's duty is three-fold, to guide, to feed, to protect; he proceeded to discuss the duties of the pastor in the Sunday-school. Although speaking at some length, Mr. Bent succeeded in holding the attention of the audience.

Dr. J. W. Townsend of Pasadena occupied a few moments in addressing the convention in behalf of the Christian Home, in which he is interested. Two able papers on primary work were read. The first was entitled "Qualifying Exercises in Primary Work," by Mrs. F. J. Cressey, and the other "Primary Teaching in the Light of New Education," by Mrs. H. E. Smith. The paper on the "Teachers' Use of the Question" was the subject of an interesting paper by Prof. Calvin Estery.

That J. V. Sedwick, H. W. Brobeck and W. F. H. H. be a committee to correspond with the different publishing houses and induce such publications if they shall deem best.

"Resolved, that we regret we have reached our third annual convention with our statistical reports very unsatisfactory; we appreciate the labor bestowed by our secretary in this behalf, and urgently request that the county vice-presidents cordially and fully as possible assist and co-operate with him to the end that at our next convention we shall be presented with returns giving as readily as practically the fullest statistical results."

"Resolved, that we desire to make especial honorable mention of the sacrificing labors of our devoted workers in the Sunday-school among the Chinese in our midst."

"Resolved, that we believe the time has fully come when Sunday-school conventions should not need to make excuses as to the position relative to the liquor traffic and tobacco habit, but by their teaching and utterances, both public and private, shall show the Sunday-school workers are fully pledged to, and working for, the total annihilation of these great evils."

"Resolved, that knowing the ban of the social evil in our land, and that it is sapping the manhood and womanhood of our youth, as Sunday-school workers we recommend and urge the total annihilation of these great evils."

"Resolved, that we hereby tender our sincere thanks to the press of this city for the many courtesies and facilities given of the proceedings of this convention."

"Resolved, that we are most willing in our commendation of the work of the American Bible Society."

"J. M. CLARK, Chairman."

The report was unanimously adopted. The report of the committee on resolutions was read and each amendment considered separately, although some of the amendments were disapproved. The report of the committee was finally accepted.

A resolution of thanks to Hugh E. Smith for the many courtesies and facilities given of the proceedings of this convention was unanimously adopted.

The place for the next convention was then considered, and Ventura decided upon.

THE MEAT

In the County Government Sandwich.

A Very Radical Change in the Terms of Office.

Of County Officials After the Next Election.

A Very Important Law, Making the Tenure of Office, Found Modestly Tucked Away in the County Government Act.

A much-mooted question, and one which has been the cause of the loss of many nights' sleep to prospective officeholders, was definitely settled yesterday by the discovery of a modest clause in the new County Government Act, wherein it is ordained that hereafter all county officers to be elected will hold office for four years instead of being elected biennially, as heretofore. Consequently, those candidates who will be fortunate enough to be inducted into office on the first Monday following the last day of January, 1896, will hold down their offices in the place of their successors to be elected in 1898.

It was known at Sacramento last winter that a strong influence was at work endeavoring to secure the passage of an elective county officials. There was little active opposition to the scheme, yet, as no individual measure of such importance was at the time before the Governor, the politicians and others interested came to the conclusion that no legislation on the subject had been effected during the session.

But, as every one who has any occasion to consult the County Government Act, will discover, this piece of apparent legislation is a veritable measure of law-making is prohibited by the Constitution, is a fearful and wonderful creation. It is a veritable measure of law-making is prohibited by the Constitution, is a fearful and wonderful creation.

ACTION TO FORFEIT.

Street Railroad Franchise in Jeopardy.

Refused to Pave the Roadway Between Tracks.

The B. Cohn Will Contest Finally Adjudicated.

Another Day Devoted to Trying to Solve the O'Hanrahan Mystery—General Court Notes—New Suits—Today's Calendar.

The case of the People, etc., vs. Francisco A. Jesurun et al., an action to forfeit a franchise, came up for hearing before Judge Van Dyke in Department Four, yesterday afternoon, and was submitted upon documentary evidence and briefs, the latter to be filed in ten, ten and five days, respectively.

This is the suit arising out of the refusal of the Main-street and Agricultural Park Railway Company to pave its tracks on Fifth street, from Main to San Pedro streets. The franchise for this road was originally granted on August 22, 1887, to T. E. Rowan, the present Mayor, who assigned it to Mrs. Jesurun, and she, in turn, leased to the company, which now operates the road she built.

In January, 1892, the City Council passed an ordinance, ordering Fifth street paved, due notice of which was given defendants, but they not only refused to do the work required of them, but also tore up one of their tracks, although required by their franchise to operate a double track.

THE O'HANRAHAN MYSTERY. The mystery as to the parentage of Annie Ryan, Rayne, or O'Hanrahan, still remains unsolved, for, in spite of the fact that Judge McKinley has for the past two days devoted almost his entire time to the hearing of the petition for the petitioner and respondents in this most peculiar habeas corpus proceeding, several matters yet remain to be cleared up, and it is probable that most of today's session in Department Six will be consumed in the effort to elucidate the affair.

At the close of the examination of the girl, Margaret Cullen, yesterday morning, the petitioner, O'Hanrahan, rested his case; and a number of witnesses, including the girl Annie, Matron Hill of the Florence Home, Sheldon Borden, Esq., and his wife, and Mrs. Stewart of the Bellevue Terrace, came out on behalf of the respondents. The case was then closed by these Mrs. Borden, who testified to the effect that, in response to an advertisement for a nurse, inserted by herself some years ago, she received a visit from Mrs. O'Hanrahan, who spoke to her about Annie. In the course of their conversation, Mrs. O'Hanrahan told her that Annie was then 14 years old, but was a big girl for one of her age; she also stated emphatically that the girl was not her daughter, although she had brought her over from Ireland with her. A day or two later she employed Annie, and while the girl was in her service she fell sick. Upon hearing of this illness, a reverend O'Hanrahan called upon witness, and told her that she might send Annie to a hospital if she so desired, but that she would have nothing to do with her. When informed that a doctor had been employed, and the services paid out of Annie's salary, the O'Hanrahans became very angry, and Mrs. Borden stated that when Annie first went to her house, she was obliged to furnish her with clothing, as she had absolutely nothing but the scant attire she wore.

The matter will be taken up again this morning.

THE COHN CONTEST SETTLED. The famous contest over the estate of B. Cohn, deceased, was finally adjudicated by Judge Clark in Department Two, yesterday, a compromise having been effected by the opposing parties, whereby it is agreed that the three minor children of Delina Varelas, viz., Matthias Joseph, Miguel Daniel and Marcos Sirlaco, are to receive from the heirs the sum of $7300, in full satisfaction of their claim against the estate, and that the said children, upon various grounds, and the court denied the motion of the latter, but granted that of the heirs, as the result of which ruling the compromise was made.

SUIT FOR ALIMONY. Judge Van Dyke, yesterday morning, heard the case of Mrs. Anna Marie Eva Wolfom vs. George P. Wolfom, a suit to obtain alimony; and at the close of the evidence ordered that the plaintiff take nothing by her action, but that defendant be required to pay her attorney's fees, $100, of which half is to be paid within thirty days and the balance in six months.

The parties were married in July, 1891, and have one child as the issue of their union. Plaintiff alleges that, owing to the cruel and inhuman treatment of her husband, she was, on December 1, 1892, compelled to leave him and seek the protection of her parents, taking the child with her. She further alleges that her husband acquired a house and lot and other personal property, at No. 548 Mission road, valued at about $2000, and that he earns a good salary at his trade, that of a carriage trimmer.

Wolfom, on the other hand, denied the cruelty, denied that his property is community property, and claimed that his wife deserted him without sufficient cause, and refuses to return; and the court, after hearing both sides, concluded that the breach was not sufficiently serious to be adjudged.

THE MILLER SUIT. So far as the taking of testimony is concerned, the trial of the suit brought by Mrs. N. Miller, against the executors of the estate of her brother, L. L. Bradbury, deceased, was concluded in Department Five yesterday. On the matter will in all probability be submitted to the jury today. At the close of the plaintiff's case, the defense moved the court for judgment of nonsuit, which motion was denied; and the remainder of the day's session was consumed in the hearing of testimony tending to controvert the claims of Mrs. Miller.

Court Notes. In Department One yesterday morning Judge Smith arraigned John McDonald and G. W. Olsen upon the charge of robbery, preferred against them by Pat Carr; and allowed them until tomorrow morning in which to plead thereto.

Joel M. Logan was duly arraigned by Judge Smith yesterday morning upon the charge of assault to murder, preferred against him, and was allowed until Friday morning in which to plead thereto, but the defendant subsequently appeared with his attorney, and presented a demurrer to the information, which was overruled by the court. The defendant thereupon entered his plea of not guilty, and was ordered to reappear for trial on December 22.

Joseph McCormack was tried and convicted of burglary by a jury in Department One yesterday morning, and was ordered to appear for sentence on Saturday morning next. In September last he entered the room of Fred Philippi, at the Cotton House, corner of Fourth and Los Angeles streets, and stole a suit of clothes, which he subsequently sold to M. Ellis, a second-hand dealer on Commercial street, for $2.50.

When Matthew Curry appeared before Judge Smith yesterday morning to receive sentence, he having recently been convicted of robbery, his counsel moved the court for a new trial upon the usual statutory grounds, but the motion was promptly overruled, and Curry was thereupon sentenced to imprisonment at San Quentin for the term of five years. Upon notice of appeal being filed, a stay of execution for ten days was ordered.

In the Probate Court yesterday morning Judge Clark admitted the will of Minnie Pegg, deceased, and Jacob Stengel, deceased, to probate, and disposed of a number of other matters of minor importance.

The trial of the case of the City of San Pedro vs. Richard Tanner, an action to recover possession of a portion of Front street, pending in Department One, was concluded by the plaintiff's private property, was concluded before Judge Clark yesterday, the matter being submitted upon briefs.

Upon presentation of the necessary proofs and taking the requisite oaths of renunciation and allegiance, Richard Markle, a Canadian, and Joseph Baker, an Englishman, were admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge Van Dyke yesterday.

The defendant, Thornton, in the foreclosure case of the Savings Bank vs. Southern California, vs. Mervin E. Barr et al., was granted until Saturday next by Judge Van Dyke yesterday morning, which to prepare his statement, on motion for a new trial thereto.

Judge McKinley dismissed the motion to dissolve the garnishment in the case of Nevada vs. Rickett, yesterday morning, the court having no jurisdiction over the same, as the property levied upon is exempt from execution. The case of the City of Los Angeles vs. Co. vs. the City Water Company, was overruled by Judge McKinley yesterday morning, with the usual time to answer, and the same court the motion for a new trial in the case of E. Leonis vs. A. Antunez et al., was denied.

The defendants in the cases of W. K. Booker vs. N. P. Campbell et al., an action to quiet title to five acres of land in Weld's subdivision, and that of Cortiyou vs. Nellie C. Bennett et al., a suit to set aside a judgment, block 4, of the City Center tract, having allowed the matter to go by default, the plaintiffs ordered judgment for the plaintiffs therein as prayed for in each instance.

The case of W. R. Randolph vs. S. K. Kneeney et al., an action to recover $2600 damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the failure of defendants to execute a discharge of a certain mortgage on lot 4, block 4, of the same tract, was continued until before Judge McKinley yesterday afternoon, and at the close of the evidence was submitted to the court for decision.

The United States District Court was convened yesterday in pursuance of the provisions of the statutes, but, on account of the absence of Judge Jones, an adjournment was taken until today.

The judge is expected from San Francisco tomorrow or Saturday, and until his return a formal adjournment must be taken daily.

Today's Calendar. Department One—Judge Smith: People, etc., vs. William Owens, felony; for sentence.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15, 1893.
A duller or less interesting day has not been experienced on the New York Stock Exchange in months than today. In the face of an active market, however, a remarkably firm undertone characterized the dealings, and in marking up the balances for the day, a greater number of shares were placed in the column of advances than in the column of declines. The reason for this is to be found in the timidity of the short interest, which is now disposed to secure profits by covering at each moderate decline. At the close, a steady tone prevailed.

PASADENA.

Important Meeting Today at the Board of Trade Rooms.

Local Exhibit at the Midwinter Fair—A New Trunk Line—Personal Notes of General Local Interest—Batch of Brevities.

An important meeting will be held at the Board of Trade rooms at 3 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon. Several matters of public importance will be discussed, and it is desired that there be a large attendance, not only of members of the board, but of the citizens generally.

One matter on which action will doubtless be taken, will be that of preparing for a local exhibit or representation of some kind setting forth Pasadena's attractions at the Midwinter Fair. There seems to be a unanimous sentiment in favor of such an exhibit, the details of which have not yet been discussed. But the time is growing short, and whatever is to be done must be done quickly. It is important that there be a final decision on the sentiment of a majority of the people may be learned.

Special local interest likewise attaches to the coming of President Blake of the Nevada Southern road, who has announced his intention to be present on this occasion for the purpose of enjoining the construction of the road, the route to be followed, etc. Mr. Blake will doubtless convince those present that the prosperity of this town and section will be materially advanced by the building of the road, for the reason that the route adopted will probably pass this town. Mr. Blake will have a hearing at the Board of Trade rooms.

PRAISE FOR PASADENA.
The editor of the American Contractor, a well-known publication with headquarters at New York and Chicago, recently visited Pasadena. The result is a flattering column in that hall article on "Pasadena and its Big Hotels," from which the following extracts are taken:

"Few people outside of the immediate vicinity realize the rapid development of this portion of the San Gabriel Valley, or have any adequate conception of the number of houses here during the winter season for temporary homes or to enjoy the mountain air, and to make of this point a center from which to make excursions throughout the valley. In 1890 Pasadena had less than 6000 population. Today she lays claim to at least 10,000. Five years since there were seven hundred empty houses in the town. Today there are practically none. Many new houses have been erected during the past five years, and the character of the building activity partaking of the nature of a boom."

Referring to the Pasadena hotels, the writer says: "The most important new structure is the annex to the Hotel Green." Then follows a detailed description of this splendid new edifice. The article closes with the following paragraph: "Southern Californians build great hopes upon the influx of visitors this coming season. The country has been well advertised at the exposition and it is expected that most of the visitors to the Midwinter Fair at San Francisco will return via Los Angeles, and stop over at the comfortable and scenery of the San Gabriel Valley or to ride up the Mt. Lowe Railway and enjoy the luxury of being whisked from the congested city to the orange orchards of Pasadena or the snowy summit of Observatory Peak in an hour or two."

AT REST.

The remains of Mrs. Flora Conger were laid to their final rest Wednesday afternoon in the Mountain View Cemetery. The services at the family residence on North Euclid avenue were attended by a very large number of sympathizing friends. The exercises were of a most affecting character. They were conducted by Rev. Dr. E. L. Conger, assisted by Rev. Florence Kollock, both of whom paid touching tributes to the deceased, whose death is so universally deplored. A quartette, composed of Mrs. E. B. Clapp, Mrs. Dr. Green, O. W. Kyle, and M. E. Wood, sang several selections. A long line of carriages followed the remains to the cemetery, where they were held. The pall-bearers were: H. I. Stuart, N. S. Leithead, W. W. Leithead, J. P. Polley, Theo Simpson and Dr. Henry Macomber.

November 24 has been decided upon by the Woman's Guild of All-Saints' Church as the date for giving the proposed elaborate entertainment at the opera-house. Those who witnessed the Pageant of Roses last spring know what these ladies are capable of doing in the entertainment line.

(Star.) It is rumored that Editor Joseph Medill may buy and build on Orange Grove avenue. He has not given up Pasadena, by any means, but is to be kept busy at the distance of men and times with his neighbors, and for this purpose his Altadena home was a little inconvenient.

It is to be hoped that the Santa Fe Company will remove all doubt as to its intentions to pave the space between the station platform and Hotel Green by beginning work on the same at an early date. Improvement is a necessary and important one, and ought to be carried out before the hotel opens. The station platform at the same time might well be replaced by a new and a better one.

Today (Thursday) a district missionary meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. Delegates from Alhambra, Azusa, Monrovia and South Pasadena, with the Presbyterial Executive Committee, will be in attendance. At 3 o'clock the Home Missionary Society of the church will hold its annual praise and thank-offering meeting. All members of the missions will receive a cordial welcome.

The trustees met in regular session Monday evening, with R. R. Harris in the chair as president pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The following bills amounting to $89.05, which were ordered paid, and the reports of the Treasurer and Clerk were received and referred.

An order was entered discontinuing the lighting of the street lamps, and the contract with the electric light company was approved, covering twelve lights, service dating from November 15.

Tax Collector M. K. Barretto was allowed a deputy from November 15 to December 1.

No. 163 was then passed to final reading and adopted. This is an amendment to the bicycle ordinance and eases up on sidewalk regulations for the winter months. It practically vacates the prohibition of sidewalk riding within the corporate limits, excepting on Third street, between Utah and Oregon avenues, and on Utah avenue, between Third street and Ocean avenue.

The following communication from R. L. Freeman was read:

"Gentlemen: As the duties of my office as Tax Collector require my visiting the schools and giving them the attention necessary, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of this board, to take effect at the next meeting.

The board at once proceeded to elect a new member of the board to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of H. D. Connell, resigned. After several ballots Dr. Menges was declared elected.

TWO SMALL BLAZES.

The sounds of the fire bells brought out the fire department, and also a large crowd of spectators, in a very few moments Tuesday evening, about 6:30 o'clock. The cause of the alarm was the explosion of a large metal lamp in the room over J. B. Bennett's tailor shop, adjoining the First National Bank. Before the fire department could arrive, Night Watchman Nigiz, together with several other men, gained access to the rooms, and, after throwing the lamp outside, the blaze abated, out through a window, into the middle of the street, extinguished the fire, and the crowd crawling up the stairs, with a Babcock extinguisher.

The department was called out again Wednesday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, to put out a fire that had been started in a stable belonging to Rose McNelly, between West and Birch streets, just in the rear of the old City Hall. It was under control, but the blaze was pretty badly demoralized by the fire ladders. A horse and cow were in the stable when the fire started, but they were removed by the firemen, and a small child and a bunch of matches was the cause of the blaze.

THAT ASSAULT CASE.
The attendance was again large in the Superior court room Wednesday, to hear the concluding testimony in the Brown-Murray assault case. Evidence was introduced by the prosecution to show Mr. Brown, Sr.'s character, or rather his reputation as to truth and veracity in the community in which he lived. There was a preponderance of evidence that the old gentleman had not a good reputation among his neighbors, and that his residence in the community was not prized so highly by his neighbors. Mr. Brown, Jr., the defendant in the case, bears a good reputation. The evidence in the case was concluded, and the jury was brought in, and the case was adjourned until the next morning. From the evidence in the case it is not likely that the jury will find that the young man made the assault with intent to commit murder.

FOR SLOWER TRAINS

Vanderbilts Will Take a Backward Step.

The Santa Fe's Vice-president Viewing California.

D. B. Robinson and Party on a Tour of Inspection.

The Roads Will All Pay Commissions—The Nevada Southern and Santa Fe—General and Local Notes.

First Vice-President D. B. Robinson of the Santa Fe system arrived from the East, Wednesday evening in his private car, "Bay State," accompanied by members of his family and a few friends, passed a busy day yesterday. During the morning he met and conferred with President Blake of the Nevada Southern; the committee of citizens engaged in the work of forwarding that enterprise, and H. W. Hellman, who, as a banker and a director of the Southern California Railroad Company, is interested in the new road toward the Atlantic and San Francisco.

After the luncheon he was held at the suggestion of citizens who, before subscribing to the proposed loan for pushing the Nevada Southern over the New York range of mountains, wanted to know what arrangements the new road would make with the Santa Fe which would be beneficial to Los Angeles. While Mr. Robinson exercised his discretion with the Santa Fe, he was in favor of the project, and as a satisfactory contract would doubtless be made between the two companies which would enable the Nevada Southern to carry out their project.

At noon General Manager K. H. Wade of the Santa Fe's Southern California lines gave a luncheon to Vice-President Robinson and a few invited guests at the California Club. In the party, beside Mr. Robinson and Mr. Wade, were W. A. Bissell, general freight and passenger agent of the Atlantic and Pacific line at San Francisco; S. B. Hynes, general freight agent, and H. G. Thompson, general passenger agent, Southern California; Dan Freeman, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; E. Gorman, United States Consul to Zurich, Switzerland; Judge W. H. Clark, T. Stinson, H. G. Horne, editor of the Express, and Col. H. G. Otis, editor of the Times.

After the luncheon the railroad officials departed for Santa Monica and Redlands to inspect those two termini of the Santa Fe system, returning to the city in the evening. This morning before daylight the inspecting party will depart by special train toward San Bernardino to go over the loop and branches, and then down to Temecula. The visit to the end of the line at the Temecula Canyon will doubtless revive San Diego hopes for the reconstruction of the Western route, and it is expected that Mr. Robinson's intention to "carefully look over all the company's property and then to advise his family and friends will enjoy the climate."

SLOWING UP TIME.
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press.) Beginning next Sunday the Michigan Central and Lake Shore trains will run from New York to Chicago in twenty-four hours, or longer than at present. This will demoralize their connections with Western lines, and threatening a disruption of transcontinental time-tables. It is not known what action will result, but the Vanderbilts insist on the change, and the Western roads oppose it. All Western roads announce the intention of meeting the action of the Union Pacific in paying commissions on trip business from California points.

SCRAP HEAP.
W. A. Bissell, general freight and passenger agent of the Atlantic and Pacific line at San Francisco, is expected to meet Vice-President Robinson here yesterday.

The Kansas City Star says editorially: "The railroads are again discussing the question of rates for the Midwinter Fair in San Francisco, and are proposing excursions from the East to California, including special rates to the Yosemite and the big tree groves. Their experience in connection with the Centennial and World's Fair ought to teach them that they will be gainers financially, and otherwise by establishing from the very start, a reasonable schedule of prices for the winter fair, instead of waiting, as they have done heretofore, until forced to make the proper concessions to the public."

Protest Against the Midwinter Fair Approval.
At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors held yesterday a committee of merchants, consisting of Messrs. H. Siegel, J. T. Sheward, W. C. Furrey, C. H. Hance and W. Bean, appeared on behalf of some three hundred others, to protest against the action of the board, and demanded that the appropriation made toward the maintenance of a county exhibit at the Midwinter Fair be rescinded, upon the ground that the interests of this section would be better subserved if the money was donated to the local Citrus Fair to be held in this city. The board at once went into executive session in the committee room, where the matter was discussed at considerable length, but before advising the protestants to await the decision of the court as to the legality of the appropriation, no action was taken in the premises.

In response to a citation issued by the board, Capt. A. W. Barrett, Superintendent of the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company, appeared, and was called upon to explain why the company had represented that it did not run its cars to the end of its University division, as called for in its franchise. A number of people having lodged a complaint in relation to the matter, but at Capt. Barrett's request the hearing was continued until the return of Manager E. P. DURING these hard times taxes and fire insurance are heavy burdens. On one of these important items a great saving can be made by placing old fire insurance in companies not in the "company" and making reduced rates, as the Broadway and Mutual Fire Insurance Companies of New York. Today the first general meeting of the National Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers is held in the rooms of the Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York city.

The wonderful progress of naval architecture during the past twenty years has revolutionized naval warfare. It now looks as though the submarine boat and the torpedo would consign warships to limbo and make navies a thing of the past.
